

WATER CYCLE ACTIVITY NINE

Design an experiment which will measure how much water is transpired by a plant overnight. You must use a living plant (any size) and be able to measure the water accurately in millilitres .

