Proj Details: Members of the group are contracted facilitators who facilitate court-referred Restorative Justice Conferences. The conference is between an offender and their victim and aims to repair the harm done to the victim by the offending. The process is victim centered and gives victims a voice in the justice process. Restorative Justice also aims to reduce reoffending. They meet the needs culturally of all ethnic groups eg. for Maori the can be held on a Marae. Although they receive some funding from the Ministry of Justice for the facilitators this does not go all the way to paying the costs of administration, what they would like from us is funding to support administration costs so allowing the Ministry funding they receive to meet the direct costs of the service.
