

Waitakere Trust Art Awards & Lincoln Green Sculpture Awards

The 23rd annual art awards promises to be the biggest yet, with over $10,000 in prizes and more artwork on display than ever before. This year's exhibition will be housed in Projectspace at Corban Estate Art Centre, the largest venue for the awards to date.

Submissions are due by October 2 this year. After judging by a panel of four arts professionals and practitioners chaired by WCCAC President Robin Binsley, about 120 selected works will be hung for exhibition and judging in early November.

Entries Due For Waitakere Trust Art Awards

Currently in its twenty-third year, the awards are currently seeking painting and sculpture submissions: entries close October 2. This year a jury panel of four art professionals and practitioners, chaired by WCCAC President Robin Binsley, will assess all entries in a pre-selection process and select around 120 works to be hung for judging in early November. This year the Trust offers $17,000 in prize money. Artists must submit digital images of their work; entry forms are available at all Waitakere Libraries, local galleries and on-line at: www.waitakere-arts.co.nz.

Waitakere Galleries Seek Submissions

Three Waitakere galleries are currently seeking submissions for exhibition: The Packing Shed Gallery and Café in Oratia, a new gallery in Titirangi and the Kumeu Visitor Centre.

The Packing Shed is currently seeking works to exhibit in 2010. Interested artists can contact Jo or Pamela on Wednesdays, or phone for an appointment on tel. 835 1557.

A new collective gallery and performance/workshop space is opening in Titirangi. Artists who join will pay a small weekly rental and a commission of 25% to 35% on sales. Contact Sieffe on: startgallery@hotmail.com.

An upgraded Kumeu Visitor Information Centre will reopen in early October on 49 Main Rd Kumeu. A new gallery is planned as part of the centre, and artists are invited to submit items for sale on commission. Works of a local nature are preferred. Contact Bernadette on cel. 021 289 7049.

Te Atatu Peninsula Spring Festival Seeking Artworks

The Te Atatu Peninsula Business Association is seeking original artworks by Waitakere artists to display and sell during the peninsula Spring Festival over the week of October 12–17. The Business Association will help with installation of works and accept responsibility for their care during the week. Interested artists should contact Town Centre Manager Graeme Smith on tel: 834 0025 or email: tcm@thedawn.net.nz.

Studios Available To Recent Arts Graduates

Corban Estate Arts Centre in Henderson has created a cluster of studios suitable for recent art school graduates. Each studio is about 12 square metres and has a concrete floor; some have skylights. Rental is only $25 per week and includes services (electricity, access to kitchen, phone). For further information email: info@ceac.org.nz or tel. (09)838 4455.

Newsletter Seeking Submissions

Stories, reviews, events, opportunities, issues, news and all arts listings are welcome for the Arts Rodney Newsletter. Send your information and images to: shay.laundry@rodney.govt.nz.

Titirangi Painters Showcase Waitakere Talent

The Titirangi Painters Annual Art Exhibition, held in August this year, showcased works from a wide range of Waitakere painters. The "Best of the West" award (judged by well known Waitakere artist Jill Perrott) was given to Lynette McKinstrie for Taonga-Twin Steams (top); Public Choice Award winners were first Delphine Woolford for Fiordland Fishing Fleet (bottom), second Sharon Mann for Moment in Shandur Pass and third Ted Rogers for No.

Talented Youth Make Song Quest '09 Something Special

The inaugural Project Twin Streams Song Quest drew over 400 people to Zeal Global Café in Henderson for the final performance night on 22 August.

The brainchild of Mandy Patmore, Arts Coordinator for Project Twin Streams and a performing musician, Song Quest attracted a diverse range of acts aged 18 and under. Their brief was to write a song about Project Twin Streams which would inspire people to make a positive change and create a better future for the environment.

First prize (a $2000 Go West Music voucher and a free recording of the winning song) went to 17 year-old Abootu for her song 'Rebuild the Paradise'. Second place went to Lemon Pie, a female duet "with great harmonies" and third place to Victoria Vigenser, a "very, very professional" singer-songwriter. The Judges' Merit Award went to "innovative" young dub band, The Velociraptors for their catchy song; and the PTS Encouragement Award to Mysterious Roadkill, a ska band of 10 year-olds with a full horn section.

Lemon Pie by student Megan Holley

The judges - Andrew Fagan, former Mocker, Ben Collier from Goldenhorse, Dei Hamo, a leading hip hop artist, and Jess Clark, a riparian coordinator for Project Twin Streams - were impressed with the calibre of all the acts and with the event itself.

Independent film-maker Ben McAlister documented Song Quest, and two minute interview excerpts of each act were projected onto a large screen before the finalists took to the stage. Ben is compiling his footage into a documentary which will screen at Zeal Global Cafe in early December, alongside an exhibition of images by five young photographers from St Dominic's College.
