Proj Summary: Guitar workshops for teachers

Proj Details: The purpose of this grant is to provide guitars and training for teachers through music workshops so that teachers are inspired to teach music at their level of capability and so that they can gain sufficient skills to use the guitar competently in the classroom and provide a positive musical role model for the children. This in turn will promote a love of music at the local level, upskill educators and benefit children through increased class/syndicate and school wide singing with guitar accompaniment. A grant would give them the opportunity to get more guitars into the school and to provide workshops and resources for this - beyond what their usual budget can accommodate.

Proj Summary: Art classes for the community

Proj Details: Following the successful 2001 & 2003 art show and competition, several local artists have expressed their wish for a painting group to be established in Ranui at low cost. Some are new to painting and as the initial outlay for setting up with painting equipment is quite a lot, they would get more participants if it could be subsidised. The Community House is ideal as a venue with a class room facility and established market day for sales. It is conveniently situated with easy access for disabled. They would like to have workshops for both adults and children.

Proj Details: The project is called "Promoting Multi-Culture Through Situation Drama" In the past few years Song Hua has trained different age groups of drama fans to participate in different media such as community events and radio shows. Situation drama reflects contemporary issues that in a changing society effect us all. In this the "audience" loses its passive role to become participant and, to some extent, performer.
