FOREWORD

In producing this policy on dogs, Waitakere City Council has (in addition to observing the legislative parameters) been guided by its eco-city qualities of being sustainable, dynamic and just. Public consultation and consideration of the needs of the entire community have also been taken into account in the formation of the Policy. In addition, because of Council's ongoing efforts to address dog control problems within the community Council has developed a particular approach to dog related issues. Council's approach stems from the following perceptions:

- It is a privilege to be able to own a dog.
- Dog control problems are a symptom of community, social and individual people problems.
- The impact of a dog on others is in the hands of the owner of the dog.
- To be a successful owner any dog owner must take a daily and active interest in the welfare of the dog with attention given to the physical, emotional and mental needs of the dog.
- Humans have domesticated and selectively bred the dog and it is therefore the responsibility of each dog owner to treat the dog with respect and manage it responsibly so that it lives harmoniously within the community and does not negatively impact on others.
- There are far too many dogs being destroyed mainly due to owners allowing excessive/uncontrolled breeding rather than to meet legitimate demand and it is a socially responsible action for a dog owner to have the dog de-sexed.
- Many dog owners do not realise the extent to which their dogs can have a negative impact on others.
- Many dog owners do not realise that the domestic dog has strong instincts, particularly the aggressive instincts of territorial aggression and predatory aggression.
- The ownership of a dog brings with it a twenty four hour a day, seven day per week social responsibility towards other people (including their property and animals) and towards the dog itself.
- It is in the interest of the community that Council's Animal Welfare Officers maintain interaction with dog owners.

INTRODUCTION

The control of dogs is an issue which attracts the attention of many residents in our City and, unfortunately, it is the negative connotations which tend to be most prevalent. Over a number of years, Council's Animal Welfare officers have been aiming to get all known dogs in the City registered, provide a quick response rate to dog related complaints, and provide educational and training courses to dog owners.

The Dog Control Act 1996 ("the Act") contains obligations that require all owners to register their dogs, to ensure they are kept under control, and to ensure they do not cause a nuisance to any person, cause damage to property, or injure, endanger or cause distress to any person, stock, poultry or domestic animal, or protected wildlife.

The Council has powers under the Act to assist dog owners to meet their obligations and to address situations where those obligations are not met.

To ensure these powers are used effectively and fairly, and form part of a broad approach to the management of dogs (for example, rewards to responsible dog owners), the Act requires the Council to adopt a policy on dogs in its area through a public consultation process.

The approach adopted by this Policy on Dogs recognises the benefits and problems of dogs to their owners and the community as a whole, and that everyone in the community, dog owners, the general public, and Council, has a role to play in order to continue to realise these benefits and minimise the problems.

The legislation requires Council to produce a 'Policy on Dogs'. In preparing this document Council has ensured that it complies with its own 'Strategic Platforms', as set out the City's Long Term Council Community Plan, which encapsulates a holistic approach to communities by promoting a safe and sustainable city. There are also wider issues which are taken into consideration such as urban growth, traffic issues, and economic factors.

The policy takes into account both the needs of dog owners and the concerns and interests of other residents within the City; in other words, it considers the rights, responsibilities, and personal freedom of all its citizens. Consideration is also given to the provision of recreational facilities, the protection of natural environment, the investment in services, including parks and public areas, and it aims to protect or minimise adverse impacts on natural and physical resources, and promote safety within our neighbourhoods and parks.

The Act requires that every Territorial Authority shall adopt a policy on dogs by 1 September 2004.

EDUCATION

Waitakere City Council considers education a key factor in addressing dog control problems such as the problems relating to noise, aggression, fouling, wandering and the offshoots of these. It will provide information for the public and promote dog obedience courses.

Policy 1 Education

Council will promote better understanding in the care and control of dogs through:

- Provision of a voluntary and incentive based Dog Owner Licensing programme which enables dog owners and potential dog owners to learn about their obligations and responsibilities as dog owners;
- The promotion of better management of dogs by way of media advertising, and lectures to schools, clubs and the general public;
- The production and distribution of informative brochures for the care and control of dogs within the City of Waitakere;
- The promotion of Puppy Training and Dog Obedience Training. Dog owners will be advised and encouraged to join Dog Training Classes and learn how to improve their dog management skills;
- The legal obligations of dog owners; and
- Provision of information on public health and safety, wildlife, wetlands, and other ecological sensitive areas within the City.

REGULATION

Registration

Council shall enforce the legislation in relation to dog registration whereby the owner of any dog aged three months or over must ensure that the dog is registered and that the registration is renewed by the end of July in each year.

Non compliance with dog registration may result in an instant fine or court prosecution and/or debt collection actions and/or seizure of the dog.

Microchipping

For all dogs that are classified as menacing or dangerous after 1 December 2003 and for all dogs that are registered for the first time on or after July 1 2006 then the dog must be implanted with a functioning microchip transponder (i.e. micro-chipped). This requirement will take place as from July 2006.

Failure to comply with this provision may result in a court prosecution.

Infringement Notices

Under the Dog Control Act Council may issue an infringement notice (instant fine) to a dog owner where the Dog Control Officer has reasonable cause to believe that the dog owner has committed an infringement offence. Council has a choice between issuing an infringement notice or seeking Court Action.
